GRANDSTAND

Friday, August 2 ~ 9:00 p.m.

2019 sees the return of Streetheart to playing live shows after a two year hiatus to mark and honor the passing of lead vocalist Kenny Shields in 2017.

Original founding members Daryl Gutheil and Ken "Spider" Sinnaeve along with Jeff Neill will be joined by Paul McNair (Harlequin) on lead vocals and David Langguth (Kim Mitchell/Nelly Furtado) on drums to re-ignite the songs and legacy of one of Canada's most iconic R&R bands.

Since the band's inception in 1977, Streetheart has always prided itself in presenting their music with a high level of skill, energy and execution, and the new lineup promises a continuance of that long tradition.

A list of hits that includes 'Under My Thumb', 'Here Comes The Night', 'Hollywood', 'Tin Soldier', 'What Kind Of Love Is This' and 'Action', along with the most requested tracks from their catalogue of platinum albums, guarantee Streetheart's ability to deliver top quality, highly entertaining shows to their audiences night after night.

Support has been strong from both the fans and throughout the industry regarding the band's return to playing live and we anticipate great things ahead for Streetheart in 2019 and beyond.

Represented exclusively by Canadian Classic Rock*

Opening for Streetheart - Cold Shott 7:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m.

GRANDSTAND

Charlie Major

Saturday, August 3 ~ 9:00 P.M.

He's more Mellencamp than Merle. His lyrics champion the 'Blue Collar Hero' in a manner that resonates of Springsteen and other roots rock legends, but it is in the country music format that Charlie Major finds his home.

Rising to the forefront of the Canadian Music scene in the early to mid-nineties, Charlie had a heyday at radio as he became the first Canadian artist in history to score six #1 hits off of his debut album. Nine more chart topping hits would follow, and Charlie would crisscross the world headlining tours and connecting with his fans at fairs and festivals.

But as the old saying goes "fame comes with a cost" & it wasn't long before a major US label signed Charlie, moved him & his family to Nashville. The head of the label told Charlie his sound needed to change & become "more country."

The marketing department thought his records might sell better in the US if he appeared on the album cover in a Stetson, and added more fiddles and steel guitars to his edgy songs. What the label did not know was that even though Major might sell out concerts, he was not the type of guy who 'sells out' his career. Charlie's integrity to remain true to his fans, himself and his music was immovable and so he relinquished the dream of the big US record deal and returned to his homeland where he continues to be embraced.

Over a decade later Charlie is as successful as ever, he headlines his own tours and pairs up with the likes of ZZ Top to rock arenas full of fans from coast to coast. He has sold nearly half a million records in Canada alone and won three Juno Awards and seven CCMA's, but you wouldn't know it to meet him and he would not tell you. He wears the cloak of humility, just like the hardworking folks that he represents in his music.

Truly a Canadian legend and one of the accomplished 'nice guys' in the game, Charlie would not have it any other way.

Opening for Charlie Major - Rod Gjerde 7:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m.

DONNY PARENTEAU & Friends

Thursday, August 1 ~ 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Donny Parenteau born in Prince Albert, is singer-songwriter, multi-instrumentalist and record producer. He was a fiddle player, guitarist, and mandolin player for country music singer Neal McCoy. While touring with McCoy, Parenteau got to open for such artists as Merle Haggard, Tim McGraw, Faith Hill, Buck Owens and Garth Brooks. After playing 250 - 300 shows a year, Donny returned to Prince Albert to embark on his solo career.

Donny has done a number of humanitarian and charity works and won the 2001

SCMA International Humanitarian Award.

Each year he also embarks on a tour of elementary schools in Saskatchewan each year as a motivational speaker in which he spreads his message about anti-bullying.

DON BURNSTICK

Friday, August 2 ~ 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Don grew up on the Alexander First Nation, near Edmonton, AB. He is the youngest of 15 and lived in a violent environment. Don learned a variety of ways to defend himself, one of which is humor. He lived on the streets of Edmonton as an alcoholic & drug addict, and at the age of 21 found sobriety. Don went on to take training in holistic urban youth development, he became an Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselor and graduated from NECHI Institute, Edmonton as a Native Trainer Developer. For over 20 years he has used humor & performing to provide holistic healing. He speaks to a proud heritage, the importance of healing, & has a strong desire to leave a better world for the next generation. Don wrote and performs 'I am Alcohol - Healing the Wounded Warrior' a gripping portrayal of the addictive power of alcohol and drugs, as well as the connections to other destructive forces plaguing the Aboriginal community. He is one of Canada's best comedians and uses humor to portray First Nations people, their habits, likes and dislikes.
