OUR HISTORY

The Prince Albert Exhibition Association was organized out of a need for governance and leadership in the settlement area of Prince Albert. It quickly became the only systematic organization in the District of Lorne. The society was charged with and accepted the responsibility of the community and surrounding district, establishing a governing body. It took the place of a municipal council and preceded the organization of the Board of Trade by three years.

Known as the Lorne Agricultural & Industrial Society at its inception in 1883, the Association was incorporated under the name Lorne Agricultural Society in 1887. In 1905, the same year as Saskatchewan became a province, it became the Prince Albert Agricultural Society. The year 1953 saw the Association become a Non-profit Organization through a private act, Chapter 126 of the Statutes of Saskatchewan. In 1971, a name change was made to the present Prince Albert Exhibition Association. The Association remains the oldest, continuing Agricultural Society in Saskatchewan. The year 2023 is the Prince Albert Exhibition Association's 140th year. The Society has had its share of good years and bad, but has always maintained an onward trend for the betterment of the citizens of the area. As such, the Prince Albert Exhibition Associations' motto remains.
